

Google has links to yellow and white pages, which can provide some quick results for you if you are looking for someone. First, look for a parent – type their name into google (surrounded by quotation marks, i.e. “Phil Horton”) and see what you get. It’s also fun to type in your name and see what comes up. You may actually have a listing (if you have your own web page, or if you appeared in a newspaper article). More than likely, you’ll get a list of people what have the same name as you. Who knows, you might discover a long lost relative!

If you have caller ID, you can use Google to see who it is. In Google, type in the number 6264449531 and see what comes up (you might already know). Type in your own phone number and see if your address comes up.

You can also find out where an area code is by entering it by itself. Type in 808 to see there that area code is used.

Next, type in your home address (i.e. 5150 Farna Ave, Arcadia CA) and see if your home is listed. NOTE: Make sure you are not in the Google Phonebook when you do this – sometimes it switches you into the phonebook and stuff won’t come up.

On all of the above, the results should display a link to Google Maps.

If you need to find the phone number of a particular store, type in the name and the city of the store to get a listing.

You can also search using synonyms (words that mean the same thing). If you use the tilde sign (~) before a word, it will search on ALL the synonyms of that word. Type in ~food and you will see food, nutrition and other links.

Now use the information above to find the answers to the following questions (happy googling!).

Note: Email your answers to rhp@denovodental.com, subject line is Compapp 15-3 lastname.

1. What area/city is the 916 area code?
2. Whose telephone number is 626-574-1489?
3. Who does business at 115 E. 10th Street, Azusa, CA
4. What is the phone number of the Wal-Mart in Rexburg, ID?
5. What is the phone number to the Home Depot in Monrovia?
6. What is the phone number for the Getty Museum’s restaurant?